

THE SUNDAY TIMES
Magazine

18.4.2010

GAME BOY

Ben, 14, is playing Grand Theft Auto IV.
What is online addiction doing to kids?

Donald's dynasty
The Trump children
take on his world

Portrait of a hard man
Ray Winstone, the new face of British art

Rough trade
Forget the PhD and become a mechanic

SHOCK AND ORE

Deforestation caused by a mining operation for the mineral ilmenite — the primary ore of titanium, which is used in everything from aircraft parts to artificial joints — affects an area of coastal forest in southeast Madagascar. The photographer Ed Kashi was commissioned by Prix Pictet 2009 to work with Azafady, a UK-based NGO, to produce pictures to raise awareness of environmental damage. The exhibition Madagascar: Uncovering the Forgotten Land is at Diemar/Noble Photography, London W1, from April 20 to May 1. Visit www.prixpictet.com

FEELING THE HEAT

A farmer in Manindry Havia uses "tavy", a traditional — but illegal — technique of slash and burn to clear a forest for planting crops, usually rice. Around a third of Madagascar's landmass is set alight each year because of practices such as this

